RECTOR'S EDITORIAL

Our Lady gave her only Son to Simeon, and through Simeon to each of us. She knew from the message of the Angel that she received a Son in order to give him as a Saviour to mankind. Simeon symbolizes the human race opening its arms to welcome his Saviour. There are three possible manners of receiving Him: the first one is to hold him only in words and outward praises, the second is to accept him in our heart with love, the third one is to perform good works (because the arms represent the works). This last way to hold Our Lord in our life is most necessary because this is the real expression of the charity received in our soul. As Christians, we have to dedicate ourselves generously to good works and activities for God's glory, keeping our hearts in prayer and meditation. At the same time, we ask for purity of heart in our active charity: we cannot pretend to be genuinely charitable if our heart is overcrowded with bitterness, sins, anger, jealousies, lack of forgiveness, etc... Purity of heart and good will towards our brethren are spiritually synonymous. This candour is the heart of Simeon's attitude and the reason for his salvation.

– Based on a sermon of St Francis de Sales for the Feast of St Blaise.
